The guests were the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. MacVeagh; the Attorney General, Mr. Wickersham; the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Wilson; the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, Mr. Nagel; Senator Martin, Senator Clay, Senator McHenry, Senator Money, Senator Crane, Senator Nixon, Senator Piles, Senator Du Pont, Senator Davis, Senator Page, Senator Bradley, Senator Chamberlain, Senator Edley D. Smith, Senator Lorimer, Representative Henry H. Bingham, Representative Leonard F. Livingston, Representative Charles L. Bartlett, Representative William Sulzer, Representative Robert F. Broussard, Representative Samuel W. Smith, Representative Thomas S. Butler, Representative George P. Lawrence, Representative Walter I. Smith, Representative Charles F. Scott, Representative Arthur L. Bates, Representative William E. Humphrey, Representative Ollie M. James, Representative James Kennedy, Representative George F. Huff, Representative Julius Kahn, Representative James F. Burke, Representative Frank O. Lowden, Representative Gerrit J. Diekenma, and Representative C. Bacon Simpson.

Mrs. Taft, who has been ill for the last six weeks, is recovering sufficiently to take drives, and will probably go out each day before leaving for her summer quarters at Beverly, Mass., which is the season cottage.

They will leave next Saturday morning for Beverly, accompanied by their children. The President will establish his offices in the board of trade at Beverly, and the cottage will be strictly private and free from any public work.

Mr. Ballinger, Secretary of the Interior, is on his way to his Western home for an absence of two months. He will join Mrs. Ballinger in their home in Seattle, where she has been since a few weeks after the inauguration. Mr. Ballinger's mother makes her home with them, and she is so feeble Mrs. Ballinger could not spend the spring season in Washington.

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture, who will eschew society for a career in opera, will leave Washington this morning for New York, and sail to-morrow on the Majestic for Europe for the summer. Miss Wilson will return to this country next September and sing professionally.

She has just declined an offer to be a member of the new Pinstrip Opera Company, of New York, which is to give grand opera with splendid artists at cheaper rates than the Metropolitan and Manhattan companies in the old Academy of Music, where Col. Mapleson gave the first grand opera seasons New York ever had. Pinstrip is a son of the famous Italian composer, whose songs are well known in this country by singers of all classes.

Miss Cannon, daughter of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, left Washington yesterday morning with Miss Amy Gillett to sail for Europe to-day, to be gone until September. On their return Miss Cannon will go at once to her home in Danville, Ill.

Mrs. Elkins and Miss Katherine Elkins, wife and daughter of the Senator from West Virginia, who have just arrived in Antwerp, will remain there for a few days and then go to Brussels, after which they will take the cure at Bad Nauheim for six weeks, and then go on a motor tour, arriving in Paris in September for a long stay. Mrs. Elkins and her son, who sailed on the same steamer with them, have gone to Baden, and will remain there with Mr. and Mrs. Elkins for some time before taking an auto tour of the continent.

Mrs. McLean, wife of Capt. Walter McLean, U. S. N., stationed at the navy yard, entertained at a luncheon yesterday in honor of Mrs. Beekman Winthrop, wife of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, at the Chevy Chase Club. The guests asked to meet her were Mrs. J. Franklin Bell, wife of the Chief of Staff, U. S. A.; Mrs. E. H. C. Leuze, wife of Rear Admiral Leuze, commandant of the Washington Navy Yard; Mrs. J. Mason, wife of Rear Admiral Mason; Mrs. John Ross Martin, Mrs. William Barrett Ridgely, Mrs. Frank W. Cox, Mrs. William J. Pettus, and Mrs. Belle Howell Bohan.

Mrs. F. E. Willhoite has announced the marriage of her daughter, Dolores H., to Mr. Michael A. O'Brien. The ceremony was performed on Saturday morning, June 26, in the residence of Cardinal Gibbons in Baltimore, at 11 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Sickney. The bride was given in natural color pongee, with a black hat, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. After next week, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will be at home, at 1509 Columbia road.

The marriage is announced of Miss Ida M. Bresnahan, daughter of Mr. P. J. Bresnahan, to Mr. David A. Reidy. The ceremony was performed yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic Church by the pastor, Rev. Father Ignatius Fealy.

Mrs. Marcus A. Hanna, widow of the late Senator from Ohio, has arrived at Seal Harbor, Me., for the summer. She is building a new summer residence there, which, when completed, will be one of the handsomest in that locality.

Dr. and Mrs. Fremont Smith have closed their Washington home and gone to Bar Harbor, where they will spend the summer at their cottage in Mount Desert street.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Lee Fry, of Martinsburg, W. Va., to Mr. Guy H. Gardiner, of Chambersburg, Pa., is announced. The ceremony was performed last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Nannie Fry, 1800 Fairmont street, by Rev. Charles Guthrie. Only the members of the immediate family were present. The bride wore her traveling gown of gray cloth, with a picture hat of black with plumes. After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner left for their wedding trip to the North, and will be at home in Chambersburg later in the summer.

Miss Edna Faust Riddleberger, daughter of the late Senator Riddleberger, of Virginia, will be married to-night to Mr. Gilbert Walker Kelly, of Aurora, Ill., formerly of this city. The ceremony will be attended by relatives and intimate friends only, and will be performed in the home of the bride's mother by Rev. Joseph Kelly, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church.

SALARY IS INCREASED

Prof. Hodges Will Get $1,200 in Alexandria County.

RESENTMENT GROWS WEAKER

Board of Supervisors and School Trustees Meet Jointly, and After Considerable Discussion Move to Encourage the New Superintendent of Schools—Troubles Adjusted.

The Alexandria County school troubles, growing out of the appointment of Prof. W. T. Hodges, of Danville, as superintendent, and the turning down of four resident candidates for the post by the State board of education, have apparently been smoothed over. Prof. Hodges will accept the post, will receive $1,200 a year salary, and will be extended the "glad hand" when he arrives in Alexandria.

All this was indicated at the joint meeting of the board of supervisors and the school trustees of the county last night at Alexandria Court House. This meeting was held to raise the salary of the superintendent. There was considerable talk of blocking the move when the appointment was first announced and when it was discovered that Prof. Hodges hailed from the other end of the State.

But when it was also discovered that Prof. Hodges is a splendid educator, an experienced man, and is well qualified for the post, murmurs against the appointment gradually began to grow less. Last night the school trustees passed a resolution, requesting that the board of supervisors supplement the salary of the superintendent to the sum of $1,200. When this resolution was conveyed to the board of supervisors, that body accepted it and authorized the increase. There was considerable discussion, however, Frank R. Ball, one of the defeated resident candidates, in a graceful speech, asked the supervisors to make an increase. He said that Prof. Hodges is a man who will do credit to the position. Opposition to the appointment of an "outsider" and the increase came from E. W. R. Ewing, who was sustained by Charles Greathouse in his contentions.

ELKS START A ROOF GARDEN.

Opened with Musical Programme and Refreshments.

While the city sweltered from the intense heat last night a large party of Elks and their friends were having a jolly good time, where "everybody was happy," on the roof garden of the Elks' clubhouse, in H street northwest.

In the party were many women, the wives, sisters, and sweethearts of the members of the organization. The occasion was the opening night of the roof garden, which will be open every evening of the week during the summer. Every one of the hundreds of white and colored incandescent electric lights and the big are lamps, together with hundreds of Japanese lanterns, liberally scattered about the garden, were burning brightly. Tall palms graced the walls, and along the aisles, where were set hundreds of small tables, at which the guests sat enjoying refreshments. The Hungarian orchestra gave a concert full of catchy and popular music.

During the evening a concert by local talent, members of the order, was a feature. Among those contributing to the evening's songs were Joseph Battle, tenor; C. Howard, baritone; Dana Holland, bass, and William Morsell, in topical songs. Prof. Herbert Wells played the accompaniments. Each number was given an encore.
